

However, should you desire to reopen this matter through the submission of a detailed statement of your present financial circumstances, which of course would remain in strictest confidence, please feel free to do so.